I keep thinking of the time last October, on an unseasonably warm day, Elizabeth and I brought my kids to the Lockport Nature Trail. It was a magical memory - the sunlight coming through the trees, the crunchy leaves, enjoying being outside together. Her foot hurt, but she came anyway. She got me out of my house, and I am so grateful for the times that we got to go to the aquarium, the zoo, the park, and out for ice cream at Lake Effect. I'm going to miss her laugh, our talks, and the things we always talked about doing but never did.

Elizabeth, You were another sister to me growing up, you taught me the finer things in life, like how to beat up Emily. I remember the long family car rides together and the constant laughter we all had growing up. I miss you and I love you so much! Rest in peace beautiful angel~Katie
