I remember camping up in Roundout with Pete and Mariann, Mary and the kids were up there while i was working down in the big city. The guys had a habit of putting nicknames on the bug screens of our trucks. There was BIG BLUE, BLUE KNIGHT, BIG BEAR, BUSH PILOT, SKIP-O-MAN, BUTT MAN, BLUE THUNDER, and i know for a fact that Pete and John Greer came up with STICKY FINGERS for my bug screen. That's right most nick names describe the persons occupation or habits (good or bad).All the guys never though i would leave the STICKY FINGERS on my truck but i did.I have known Pete and his family for over 30 years and he always made me and my family feel right at home.The only bad point that i can make about Pete and the whole Kingston crew is that when they came down to the city to catch a Yankee game, they would loose.Even after i begged them not to go !!!!!!!!!!!!!!!Love you Pete and may God grant you peace up in that campground in the sky.Ted (sticky Fingers) Tsontos

To Pete's family. You have my very deepest heartfelt sympathies. Who ever wrote the obituary did an excellent job to portray what a wonderful man that Pete Guido was to his family, friends and country. I have lost a dear friend that has made me laugh and smile so many times. While Pete is gone, I will never forget him. As with everyone else, I am so saddened that I did not enjoy more time with him. He was taken far too soon.

Memories of Pete, there are many. I think one of his favorite camping stories to tell was the time we were all leaving a campground and Garry and I were the last to dump at the dump station. Of course this was the same campground that none of us had sewer hook ups and Pete thought he would out smart everyone by letting his gray water trickle out all night. He was so surprised in the morning when he went out and found water covering his site. He had no idea that there was black plastic under all of the grass, he quickly began stabbing holes in the ground to drain the water before any noticed it. Well, he laughed last when our sewer hose popped off and Garry was covered. The only thing I found in a hurry to clean up the mess was paper plates....poor Garry. I can still hear Pete laughing over that. And the cb radios while traveling...."duck" remember that Mariann? Those darn low bridges, I was so afraid we would take the top right off the camper. Garry and I were so young and such newbies!

O my, Jim and I talked about that so many times. You with the paper plate. And wasn't that where Garry backed in between tight trees and PETE and guys teasing about him pulling out? All good memories.

Pete and I worked together at B&W in the early '80's. He was the guy who kept me sane and calm in my first sales division! Pete was always willing to help others and always a gentleman! I know that his family was his pride and joy. He must have been a heck of a grandfather! Our condolences to his family and friends. Be keep his memory alive in your hearts.
