

Dorothy Mae Blankenship

July 9, 1923 - April 19, 2012

Dorothy Mae Blankenship, age 88, passed away Thursday April 19, 2012 at the Leesburg Regional Medical Center, Leesburg, Florida. Dorothy was born in Danville, Kentucky and moved to the Leesburg area in 1988 from Lancaster, Kentucky. She was a retired Accountant and retired from the Christian Appalachian Project. She took great pride in the fact that she was able to serve her country during W. W. II as a Yeoman 2nd Class in the Navy. She will be remembered as a person who loved to be active. She enjoyed boating, bowling and golf but most of all she enjoyed taking Cruises. She was pre-deceased by her Husband Thomas Blankenship Jr. and a Sister Imogene Tredo. She is survived by: 3 Daughters – Diane Travillian, Louisville, KY; Debra Travillian, Lawrenceburg, KY; and Toni Fowler, NJ; a Sister – Anna Bella Gordon, Danville, KY; 5 grandchildren – Georgianna; Jeremy; Candace; Brandon and Stephania; and 16 great-grandchildren. Interment will take place at the Camp Nelson National Cemetery, Nicholasville, Kentucky with military honors. Page-Theus Funeral Home and Cremation Services has been entrusted with all arrangements.

“ Mandy,I'm sorry you feel like that. On the website you meotinn I was just meotinning that your bitch, from what you had written on there, didn't seem at all keen on the job first time round so it might be worth considering whether mating her again was a sensible move. I wasn't pulling you down. I have also offered you sheets if you would like any help. I have not seen a link to your website anywhere so be happy to look if you email me one.Di

“ Thank you Di for all your help and assistance over the years. How refreshing it is to know that there is someone out there who can be relied upon for honesty, integrity and expert knowledge in such a statistically large breed. I still get numerous enquiries for puppies even though it is 3 years since my last litter and I always refer people to the Wylanbriar site because I know that with you they are in safe hands.I am looking forward to bringing my bitch to the very handsome Tom in a few weeks time and fingers crossed having a litter of the consistently quality pups that your studs have always thrown for me.Thank you again Di and keep up the good work.
