“ Well sis, you gave it all you had, fighting like a real trooper. You always were stubborn, and I think it was your stubbornness that kept you going. I am so glad I got to spend some of your final days with you, and my last conversation I had with you the day before you left us. I believe in my heart that you could hear the things I was saying. The memories of those days will stay with me forever, all the laughing we did and the crazy things we said and the secrets we shared, lol. I know now you are in a better place and free from pain. I'm sure you are raising havoc with Jim and Mike and Mom and Dad and all our other relatives. Until we meet again, remember the love I have for you and you will always be in my heart.

Love

Your younger sister
Mary Lou

“ Auntie Sandi-
May your soul be resting in peace. You fought a long, hard and courageous battle. I'll always remember your fiery spirits and knack for making us all laugh with your wacky antics and unfiltered comments. My hope is that you are now hugging your parents, raising hell with your brothers Mike and Jim, and looking down after your long time friend Judy. You will be missed. God bless you.
